

PASTOR DERIEUX HAS RESIGNED

He Asks His People to Release Him on September Next

LADIES HATLESS IN CHURCH.

Rev. J. H. Thomas Says He Wants Fair Sex to Be Comfortable.

At the Venable Street Baptist Church Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. Dr. W. T. Derieux, tendered his resignation of the pastoral care of the church, to take effect September 1st.

The resignation was referred to the Board of Deacons and will be acted upon by the church at an early date.

There was a great meeting at the Pine Street Baptist Church Sunday morning. Dr. J. B. Hutson, the pastor, preached to a large congregation and learned for the first time that his people had passed some resolutions concerning him, which must have been very comforting and cheering to him. The resolutions recite some of the main facts of Dr. Hutson's long pastorate, and in effect say that his loving people recognize the fact that he is older than he used to be, and that they want him to be spared to be their pastor a thousand years, if such a thing could be possible. Therefore, they urge him to protect his health and conserve his strength, that he may be longed for to them. To this end they urge him to curtail his work and point out to him how he can do so, and not curtail his usefulness. A second resolution offers him a vacation of months or as long as he needs it, and asks him to go to London to the great Baptist gathering there this summer and to extend his trip to other parts of the old country and to the Holy Land if he so desires, and it all shall be without a cent of expense to him. The doctor has the most liberal and loving proposition under consideration.

Ladies Without Hats.
The Methodist pastors' meeting was held in the Centenary Church yesterday morning and was largely attended. All of the pastors report good congregations on Sunday, largely attended Sunday schools and many additions to schools and to the churches. In all thirty-six new members were received into the full fellowship of the Methodist churches on Sunday.

Very interesting services were held at the Laurel Street Methodist Church both morning and at night. At the night service the pastor, Rev. J. A. Thomas, spoke of the glorious results of the revival services which have been held in the church for several weeks and have now closed. In an informal talk to his people, the pastor asked the women to attend the night services during the heated term without their hats. He said he did not make this proposition for the purpose of being sensational or to be talked about, but simply because he knew the women would be so much more comfortable if they came to church and remained there bareheaded on hot nights. He wanted them to come to church as regularly in warm weather as when it was cooler, and he wanted them to be perfectly comfortable. The suggestion was very pleasing to the good women and nearly all who were there declared it to be their purpose to accept the pastor's proposition.

District Conference.
The district conference of the Richmond District will be held at West Point this week, commencing at 9 o'clock this morning. The preachers and a number of laymen went down to West Point last evening to be on hand at the opening session to-day. Six of the Richmond churches belong to this conference and each is entitled to be represented by three delegates.

Rev. J. Y. Downman, pastor of All Saints Church, of this city, spent Sunday in Fredericksburg, and preached in the pulpit of the Trinity Episcopal Church there.

The Presbyterian Ministerial Association held its weekly meeting yesterday at the publishing house, but transacted but little business. The ministers took up the time in discussing in an informal way the general affairs of the church, and, of course, views were expressed regarding the work done by the Southern Assembly, which has just closed its session at Fort Worth, Texas. Perhaps the action of the assembly on the question of union with the Northern Assembly received more attention than any other subject.

Bishop Keiley Here.
Right Reverend Benjamin Keiley, of Savannah, Ga., one of the strongest and most eloquent pulpit orators in the Catholic Church in this country, reached Richmond Saturday night, and it being known that he would preach a sermon at the Cathedral Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock mass, a very large congregation assembled there to hear him. The Bishop's theme was "The Gospel of the Day," and he handled the subject in an eloquent and most earnest manner. He combatted the theory that God is indifferent to His children, and that He surrounds them with laws of nature and then leaves them to themselves to shift for themselves. He said that God is not indifferent to His children, and that He surrounds them with laws of nature and then leaves them to themselves to shift for themselves. He said that God is not indifferent to His children, and that He surrounds them with laws of nature and then leaves them to themselves to shift for themselves.

Under An Italian Priest.
Bishop Van de Vyver has granted permission for the establishment in Norfolk of a church for the Italian Catholics of that city, to be under the control and spiritual guidance of an Italian priest.

This was done on Sunday in response to the request of a delegation of Italian citizens, who waited on the American citizens, who waited on the Bishop at the episcopal residence in the afternoon. The delegation was composed of the following leading Italian citizens of Norfolk: M. Lascari, A. Panella, A. Briglia, J. Mimiloto, Joseph Milano, J. M. Penella and Consul A. Parodi.

GOV. MONTAGUE AND THE PENSION BILL

Executive Vetoed Resolution Alleged to Impound Sum for This Purpose.

In the report of Governor Montague's meeting at the Academy of Music in Sunday's Times-Dispatch, the Governor's treatment of his veto of the pension resolution was not made exactly plain owing to a typographical error.

In speaking of the subject the Governor said in substance:

"I have been charged with vetoing a pension bill granting $200,000 to the old Confederate soldiers of the State. I deny it, and appeal to the records. On March 12, 1902, I returned to the Senate of Virginia without my approval a resolution pending, holding up and setting aside $200,000 which had no title and was, therefore, unconstitutional. Beyond this it required a subsequent law to put it into effect."

"I vetoed it, in order to get a pension bill which would be constitutional and effective."

"My veto was exercised in the interest of Confederate soldiers, and not hostile to them. This will appear to any who will carefully read the veto."

"When the bill appropriating $300,000 for pensions for Confederate soldiers was put in proper form and passed the General Assembly, it promptly received my signature, as will be seen on page 472, chapter 423, Acts of Assembly, sessions 1901-1902."

"I also approved the appropriation bill April 2, 1902, which carried a clause appropriating $300,000 or so much thereof as may be necessary, for pensions for Confederate soldiers, as will be seen on page 490, Acts of Assembly, 1901-02."

HONOR CROSSES FOR VETERANS

Daughters of Confederacy Will Distribute Badges of Distinction.

OBSERVE DAVIS'S BIRTHDAY

Attractive Exercises Will Take Place at Lee Camp Hall.

The third of June, Jefferson Davis's birthday, has been chosen by the president of the Richmond Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, for the presentation of crosses of honor to Confederate veterans making application for same.

Many blanks came in too late, May first having been announced through the press as the final time limit in the sending in of papers.

The records received are examined by the president of the chapter and a committee. The register and blanks go to Atlanta, where they are again examined, registered and returned, to be copied in the register book. The records are then placed in the museum until such time as the Daughters shall call for them. Thus every effort is taken to make these bronze medals which they stand for—a cross of honor.

The presentation exercises will be held at 8:30 o'clock in the evening of June 3d, at Lee Camp Hall. The meeting will be called to order by the commander of the camp and opened with prayer by the chaplain.

Vocal selections by Mrs. A. B. Gulgon will be varied with an informal address by the Rev. Dr. E. N. Calhoun. Then will follow the reading of rules by Adjutant Stratton, the calling of veterans' names, the presentation of crosses, informal speaking and adjournment.

Will Receive Crosses.

MAKES APPEAL FOR SHOCKOE CEMETERY

Superintendent Davis Says Walks Are Being Neglected by Property Owners.

Mr. George B. Davis, superintendent of Shockoe Cemetery, appeals to the owners of Shockoe Cemetery to improve their sections. Says Mr. Davis:

"About one-fifth take the proper care of them. There are two thousand section owners, and about twenty-one thousand persons are buried in the cemetery. The small and large walkways constitute about seven miles to be kept in condition by two men, and if the owners of sections will take the proper interest the cemetery will be greatly improved. The cemetery covers twelve acres of ground. It was opened to the public in 1822, and, next to St. John's, is the oldest in the city. Multitudes of prominent people, who helped to make Richmond, are buried there. Such notables as Chief Justice Marshall, Judges Meredith and Crump, the Amblers, Stanards, Mayes, Castles, General McDowell, Peter Francis, and thousands of others who have written their names in the hearts of the people. For over fifty years Shockoe Cemetery was a source of revenue to the city, but of late years the numbers greatly reduced. As we have no space to sell, it should behoove all citizens who are interested to do what they can to improve and perpetuate this hallowed ground."

Let the young people visit old Shockoe and read the epitaphs of men and noble women, who in their lives scattered beautiful flowers over the hills and valleys of Richmond—men and women of noble deeds and genuine charity, whose fragrance even in fond memory will prove an inspiration to them."

Three New Charters.

The State Corporation Commission has granted the following charters: (1) Amelia; W. L. Mason, president, Amelia; F. E. Nolting, vice-president, Richmond. Capital, $20,000. Objects, to conduct a regular banking and exchange business. (2) Manchester Cemetery and Park Association (Inc.), Manchester; J. H. Johnson, president, Manchester; Albert Moon, vice-president, Swanton; C. C. Burgess, secretary, Manchester. Capital, $25,000. Objects, to buy and hold land to be used for a burial place or cemetery, and a park, and may lay off the same in lots, for graves, vaults and monuments, and improve and ornament the same. (3) William A. Easterday Company (Inc.), Alexandria; William A. Easterday, president and treasurer, Washington, D. C.; D. Easterday, secretary, Eliza M. Sheetz, director, Capital, $20,000. Objects, to engage in real estate, insurance, collection and brokerage business.

Summer Rest Benefit.

An entertainment was given Friday night at Belvidere Hall, for the benefit of "Summer Rest," in Albemarle county, near Greenwood. Miss Wingo was Queen of the May and her attendants were Miss Page and Edgar Lafferty. Master Garland Thurman enacted the part of Cupid and a party of beautifully dressed children played the parts of flowers. Miss O'Farrell's costume was much admired. The maypole was danced by twenty children with gay colored ribbons, after which there was general dancing.

Mrs. Gill's Excursion.

Mrs. Gill's excursion to Old Point will be on June 12th, Whit Monday. The train will leave Richmond at 9:30 o'clock in the morning and returning, will leave Old Point at 9 o'clock in the evening.

A large crowd will doubtless take advantage of this opportunity of witnessing the army and navy manoeuvres, in which the North Atlantic squadron under Admiral "Fighting Bob" Evans, will attack Port Monroe, in order to capture Washington and Baltimore.

NEW PROFESSOR OF LAW.

Dr. Walter Scott McNeill Will Join Faculty of Richmond College

The law faculty of Richmond College has been strengthened by the appointment of Dr. Walter Scott McNeill, as instructor in law for the session of 1905-6. Dr. McNeill is a native of South Carolina, and is well known at the college, where he graduated with the degree of bachelor of arts in 1899. He was not only an excellent student while at college, but was a leader in all student activities. The last half term, of which he was captain, was, perhaps, the best the college ever had.

After leaving Richmond College, Dr. McNeill went to the University of Berlin, where he spent six semesters in the study of history, philosophy and economics. In 1902 he won a degree of doctor of philosophy, with high distinction. Returning to the United States, he entered the law school of Harvard university, where he graduated this spring with the highest degree. During the present year he has also been one of the editors of the Harvard Law Review.

Dr. McNeill is about thirty years of age and unmarried. He is a man of great energy and contagious enthusiasm. With his thorough scholarship and varied training he will add further strength to the able law faculty of the college.

POLICE WILL MEET HERE.

Commissioners Hope to Get the Convention in 1907.

Chief Werner, Superintendent Howard, Clerk Pollock, Commissioners Duke, Landerhill, Wilcox, and McCarthy have returned from Washington, where they went to attend the sessions of the International Association of chiefs of police. They express themselves as having derived much benefit from the trip. The various addresses were full of good things, and Chief Werner says he received a number of tips for the improvement of the department here, which he will put at once into operation. The association will meet in Hot Springs, Ark., next year, and it is likely that they will meet in Richmond the following year. Major Werner set the ball rolling at the last convention, and has already a number of delegates pledged to this city.

The Produce Market.

The receipts of country produce on "the block" yesterday were confined almost entirely to vegetables and fruits from down South. Very little stuff came in from Virginia, as Georgia peaches have not made their appearance on the market to keep company with those that had been coming for several days from Florida. The peaches are far from being perfect, but the best of them bring fancy prices. There were no material changes in the price of anything on the list. Demand was fairly good and business was active.

Leaf Tobacco Market.

Leaf tobacco sales for the week will open at the Tobacco Exchange this morning at 10 o'clock. All of the warehousemen have on hand packages to be sampled and put on sale, but the indications are that the brokers will not be as large during the week as last. Weather conditions are favorable for farm work and that being the case few new deliveries will be made by farmers. However, the stocks now in the hands of warehousemen and other commission merchants will insure fairly good sales all the week.
